Conklin Building Products group has experienced many changes in the asphalt coating business: ranging from necessities in raw material changes to new market pricing to unexpected performance variances. It is our commitment to you that if we cannot add significant value to you as our customer or for you in your business, then it is prudent that we reevaluate our course. This has been the case with all asphalt based products and effective immediately, we will discontinue all asphalt repair and maintenance products from Conklin. We understand that change impacts each of us differently, but this is the best time of the year to make this decision and communicate with our customers. Please accept in advance our apologies for any inconvenience or loss of business this may cause you.
